MY VISIT TO THE BROWARD CENTER

I will be going to the Broward Center to see a performance.
I have tickets to watch:

When I get to the Broward Center, I will come from the parking garage across the street or I will be dropped off at the top of the hill at the Amaturro Theater.

Across the street parking garage

OR

Top of the hill: Amaturro Theater

If I am parking in the garage, I will make sure to pay for my parking by using the  “ParkMobile” signs.

If I am coming from the parking garage, then I will walk to the top of the hill towards Amaturo Theater.

Once I get to the top of the hill, I will walk to the box office.

Box Office

There will be cars and people in line. It might get noisy too, but I will stay with my group and patiently wait for my turn to show the ticket.

Once I get to the box office, I and everyone in my group will show our tickets before going into the theater.

When I enter, I will go through the lobby. There I will see signs to the restroom, buy a snack, and walk around the lobby.

Walk in the lobby

If I need help, I can ask an usher wearing a white shirt, red tie, and black pants. If I am lost, the usher can help me find my seat, restroom, or even my group.

Ushers

The lobby has a lot of fun activities to see and explore before the show starts, but it may get too loud and crowded. I will stay close to my group.

Crowded Lobby

Stay with my group

In the lobby, I may get to do arts and crafts, meet the actors, or touch the actor's costumes from the performance. I will wait patiently until it is my turn for the activity.

An announcement will be made to go to my seat so I can enjoy the first half of the show.

When I get into the theater, I will see a lot of seats and people.
Each seat has a number that matches the number on the ticket.

My ticket has my and my group's seating numbers so we can sit together. I can show the usher my ticket so they can show me and my group to our seats.

If I use a wheelchair then I will be seated accordingly with my group.

When I get to my seat, I will wait patiently for the show to start.

Once the show is ready to begin, the lights will become dim.
I will see enough light around the theater including the aisle seats.

Before the show starts, someone will come on stage and make an announcement.

I may meet some of the actors, who are pretending to be different characters in the show. What I will see on stage is not real; they are actors playing a part in a show. They may have masks, costumes, and toys, and they are trained to make the story look real.

The show is fun! I can laugh, dance, and clap during the show while staying in my seat.

I can take a break at any time if I tell my parents or group.
Then they will take me to the Sensory Quiet Room.

I will follow the signs to the Sensory quiet room. I can stay there until I am ready to go back to my seat and continue watching the show.

When the show gets too loud, I will use a pair of headphones that will make me feel more comfortable. I can also use a fidget toy while watching the show in my seat.

After the show ends, I will clap for the the actors to show that they did a good job.

When the show is over, there will be a lot of people leaving. I may have to wait for my turn to leave the theater to go to the lobby.

When I walk to the upper lobby, I will follow instructions to meet with the actors. I may have to wait in line before I can take a picture with my group.

I can express “thank you” to the ushers and actors for making me and my group feel welcome.

I had so much watching the show at the Broward Center!
I can come back again for another show!
