What Happens in Madeline and the Bad Hat?

To help students understand the action of the play, read this plot summary to them. The main characters' names appear in boldface type.

Because Madeline and the Bad Hat is a musical — a story in which actors speak and sing to tell the story — the words and songs tell the audience about the plot, setting, and characters. Madeline is a student of Miss Clavel at a boarding school for girls in Paris, France. When the Spanish Ambassador and his son Pepito move in next door to the school, everyone is excited by the thought of a new friend. But Pepito turns out to be trouble. He shoots down kites with his slingshot, captures animals, and splashes water on Madeline. Both Madeline and Miss Clavel decide that Pepito is a “bad hat,” or a troublemaker. Miss Clavel soon realizes that there are real reasons why Pepito misbehaves. Madeline and Miss Clavel try to end Pepito’s bad behavior by being friends with him and helping Pepito’s father understand what the boy needs more than anything else.

Think about what it would be like to live at the school you attend. How would it feel to live with your classmates and not have your family with you? Do you think you would like to live with just your classmates?

Creating a Musical Theatre Production

The Author

Ludwig Bemelmans wrote the “Madeline” series from 1939 to 1961. Just like the character Pepito, Bemelmans admits that he, too, was a troublemaker while growing up. He died in 1962, but children and adults still enjoy the many books he wrote.

Changing the Page for the Stage

The musical Madeline and the Bad Hat is based on Ludwig Bemelmans’ book. The term “based on” means that the book provides the story for the musical. Some characters and events remain the same, but there are some changes and additions.

The changes and additions that turn a book into a play are made by the theatre company, ArtsPower National Touring Theatre.

- ◆ The playwright writes the lines and lyrics.
- ◆ The composer writes the music.
- ◆ The actors audition for parts and memorize lines and songs.
- ◆ The designers create sets, costumes, and lighting.
- ◆ The director rehearses the actors and makes artistic decisions.
- ◆ The stage manager oversees all backstage elements of a show.
- ◆ The producers manage the money and all the workers.

Doubling

In theatre, “doubling” means that an actor plays more than one character. The actor who plays Pepito doubles as a flower seller and a dance instructor. The actor who plays the Spanish Ambassador doubles as a gendarme [pronounced zjahn-DARM], or French policeman, an art student, and Phillipe, a cook.

Learning Activity

Watch It!

During the performance, watch for the ways the actors change their voices, bodies, and costumes to play different characters.

Meet the Characters

Four actors play the characters in ArtsPower's Madeline and the Bad Hat.

Look at the character illustrations from the book by Ludwig Bemelmans to the right.

The words in the speech bubbles above each illustration are lines of dialogue from the play.

- ◆ Read each character's line aloud.
- ◆ What do the lines tell you about the characters?

You miss your father, Pepito. See, a Spanish gentleman can be lonely.

Madeline

A Spanish gentleman is never lonely.

Pepito

I think someone who's a 'bad hat' can be that way sometimes because he just wants attention.

Miss Clavel

You will hardly see me at home as I'm always gone on some state affair.

The Spanish Ambassador

Learning Activity

The Bad Hat

The "bad hat" in the book and the play is the character Pepito. He is a troublemaker. Miss Clavel thinks Pepito misbehaves because he wants attention. Who might Pepito want attention from? Why do some children use bad behavior to get attention from parents or other adults?
